

How to go to the Laboratory:

Public transportation

Take the train to the station Ede-Wageningen. Buy a ticket and a train taxi ticket (ca. Euro 3,50), the latter ticket is needed if you want to take a so-called train taxi from the train station Ede-Wageningen to the Laboratory of Entomology (see below). If you want to take the bus from the train station to Wageningen then you should not buy a traintaxi ticket, but a busticket at the bus.

From Schiphol trains leave twice each hour that will take you to Ede-Wageningen with one stop-over. From Schiphol take a train to Duivendrecht, check the signs on the platform for trains going to that station. At Duivendrecht you get out and walk (upstairs) to the platform where the trains leave in the direction of UTRECHT. Here you wait for a "snelrein" to Nijmegen. If you take this train you will not have to change trains again. Ede-Wageningen will be the second stop. If you want to check the schedule of the trains leaving from Schiphol to Ede-Wageningen you can find it on the internet address: <http://www.ns.nl/reisplan/>
